Johnson. 1612.

A Prognostication for this yeare of our Lord and Sauour Iesus Christ,
M. DC. XII.

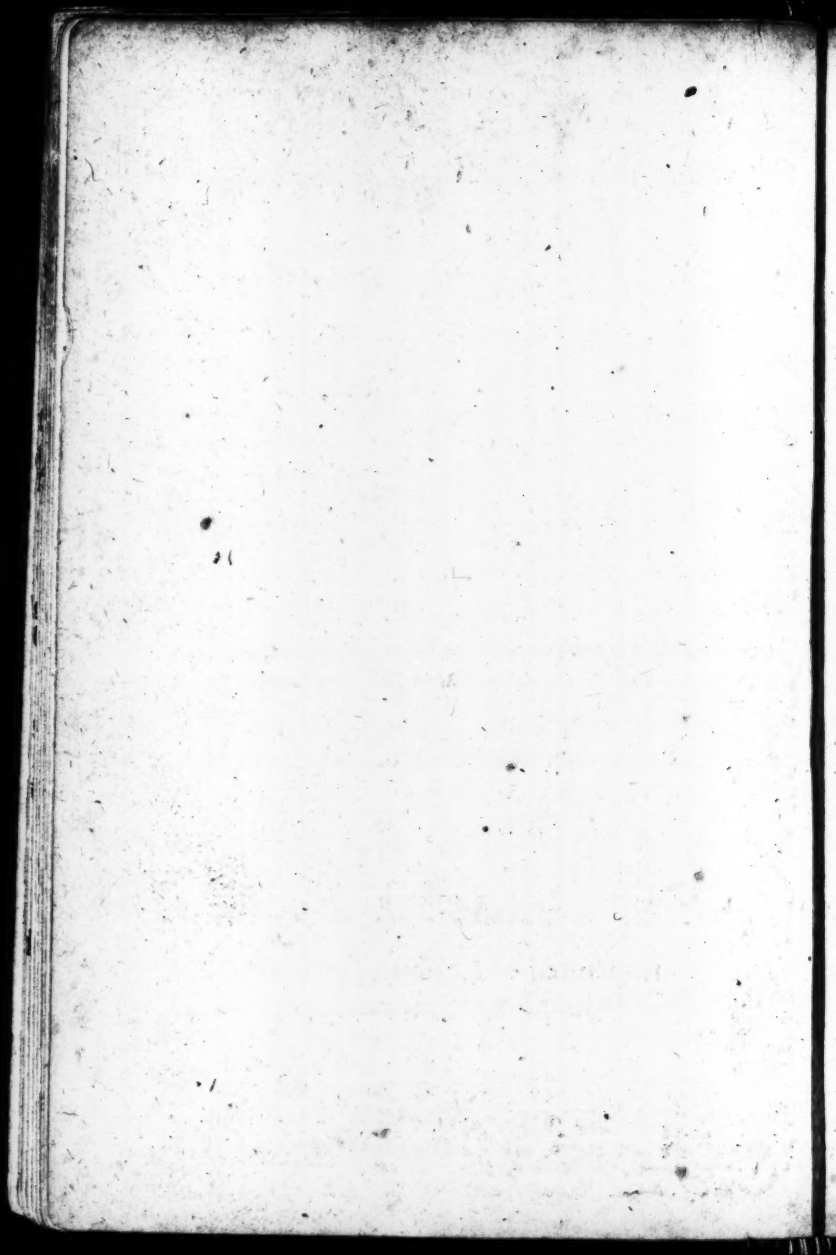

Being the Bissextile, or Leape yeare.

Written most especially for the Meridian of the famous Towne of Colchester in Essex, and will serue generally for all England.

Permed and published by Iohn Johnson, of Thorpe in Essex, according to the Rules of Iacobs Bt; being Student in Astronomie, and practitioner in Physicke.

Imprinted at London for the Compaine of Stationers.

1612.

A Description of the foure Quarters of this yeare of our Lord God. 1612.

Of Winter. ☉. in ♊, ☿, ♋.

Winter (according to our English account) began in the yeare last past. 1611. the xii. day of December, at fti. a clocke and 44. minuts in the morning; at what time the Sunne entred the first minute of Capricorne, making his Winter Solstitium, being the shortest day and longest night in the yeare: In which Quarter, Cold naturally raigneth; snow and raigne fall verie often, floodes of waters arise very suddenly, and the earth is bound with an icie cold, & greatest part of liuing things haue betake them to their Caves and Denes, by reason of the colouesse of the weather; and the Ayze for the most part, is thicke and darke, the strength of mans bodyes is weakened & diminished. In this Winter Quarter, take more quantitie of meate, & lesse of drinke: meates hot & dry are nott holleome, the stomacke hath good concoction and digestion. It is good to take heed of the morning and evening cold, and to goe warreine and dry, both upon the head and fette, and to exercise the body strongly: steame and melancholy are nott ingendred and increased; and because Winter is cold and moyst, it behoueth vs to decline to the contrary, and to vse meates hott and dry. The Diseases and Sickneses subiect to this Quarter, are these, of such other like, proceeding from flegme and melancholy, as Scabbes, Tetters, quotidian and quartaine Feuers, Cooth-ach, Rheume, Hontenisse, and Coughes.

The Calculation of the Sunne at his entrance into the foure Angular or Cardinall Signes ♊, ♋, ♌, and ♍, (after the manner of my Astronomical Tables shortly to come to the Presse)

The Sunnes entrance into the first minute of Capricorne, is the xii. day of December, at iii. a clocke and 44 min. in p morning.

Of the Spring. ☉ in γ, δ, η.

THE Spring (according to our English account) beginneth this yeare, the x. day of March, at iii. a clocke and 50. minutes in the morning; at what time the Sunne enters the first minute of Aries, making the Vernal Equinoctiall, the dayes and nightes being equall: the cold of Winter being diminished, & the pores of the earth being long shutt up with cold, are opened, snowes are dissol-ued with heate, and moisture both ascende vp to the toppes of trees;
the Earth beginnes to be appareled with sundry sortes of Hearbs and Flowers of diuers colours, all Beastes & Fowles forsake their Denues and Caves; the Nightingale, and other Birdes singing in euery Bush and all liuing things doe begin to recouery their former strength lost. The Spring being come, eate and drinke moderately and sufficiently enough; it is hurtfull to be long fasting: and because the Spring is temperate and hollome, therefore a moderate quantity of nourishment is to be taken, to the end the body may be kept in strength and health. In this time of the Spring, it is good to Bleed: because blood hath dominion: and also to Purge and Bath, in time convenient: and therefore those that feele themselves not to be in perfect health, let them resort to the Learned for counsaile.

The Sunnes entrance into the first minute of Aries is March the 11. at iii. a clocke and 50. minutes in the morning.

Of Sommer. O. in S, A, M.

Summer (according to our Astronomicall account) beginneth the 21. day of June at vi. a clocke, and 50. minutes in the morning: at what time the Sunne enters the first minute of the Celestiall Signe Cancer, making his Sommer Solstitium, the longest day and shortest night in the yeare: In which Quarter, Heate reigneth, and small still Cloudes are often stirring, the Sea for the most part warreth calme, Fruits and Flowers begin to waxe and ripen: in
B 3. Summer

A Prognostication.

Summer, the body desires more to drinke then to eate, and note it is not good to use overmuch hot meates, but rather coole drinckes; but not so cold that the state of the body be altered by them. In this time of Summer, yellow Choloz hath dominion, and therefore all manner of Purgations & Bleedings, are hurtfull, but especially in the Canticular or Dog-days. Any Mould then taken is dangerous and hard to cure. The Sickneses and Diseases subiect to this Quarter, are these or such like, as hot burning Agues, yellow Jaundies, small Poxe, fluxes, burning Scabbes, Pustules, and such other of nature hotte and dry: and because Summer is of nature hotte and dry, it is good to use meates cold and moist.

Of Autumne or Harvest. 6. in Σ , m, f.

Harvest or Autumne, beginneth this yeare 1612. the 11. day of September at 11. a clocke and 40. min. at night, at what time the Sunne enters the first minute of Libra, making the dayes

Johnſon 1612.

Dayes and nightes of equall length: the nightes increaſing, and the dayes decreaſing: The times are now altered, and the ayre becometh cold, Northren winds are often ſtirring, Rivers increaſe, & Springs are diminuiſhed, Leaves & Fruites fall from trees, all field Fruites are reaped and taken in, and the whole face of the earth looſeth his beautie: flying Fowles betake themſelves into hot Countries, all living thinges deſire their Caves, and Serpents their Denes. In Autumne, uſe more quantitie of Meate, and leſſe of Drinke. The cold of the moyne and euen, by reaſon of the intemperatneſſe of the Ayre is unequal, as now in cold, and then in heate, and therefore it is hurtfull to ſit abroad late in the euen, and ſoone in the moyne. In this Quarter, blacke Cholter hath Dominion, and Autumne of his nature is cold and dry, therefore it behooveth our diet to be hot and moiſt, declining to the contrary. The Sickneſſes and Diſeaſes ſubiect to this Quarter, are theſe of ſuch like, as quartaine Fevers, Rheumes, Tooth-aches, Hoſeneſſe, Coughes, blacke Jaundies, paine in the Joyntes, & Diſeaſes proceeding from melancholy cauſes.

A Prognostication.

Of the Eclipses which shall happen this yeare. 1612.

There shall appeare and be visibly seene about our Vozyon, an Eclipse of the Moone the 11. of may at vii. a clocke, and 49. minutes at night, containing fader poyntes or partes of her body, and so she shall continue untill ix. of the clocke and xv. minutes; at what time she shall suffer her greatest obscuration or darkening, and then shall begin to recover her lost light, by little and little, untill x. a clocke and 40. min. at what time she shall recover her full light: So that from the beginning of her Eclipse, unto her full recovery of light, she shall continue Eclipsed two howres and 51. minutes. Touching the effectes of which Eclipse, I will not at this time say any thing, untill experience hath taught me somewhat; referring the Judgement thereof, unto the Learned.

Of the Eclipse of the Sunne.

There shall also happen an Eclipse of the Sunne the xx. day of May, whole beginning shall be discerned with vs, at viii. a clocke and 25. min. in the morning, and so shall continue by little and little, untill ix. a clocke and 54. minutes; at what time he shall suffer his greatest losse of light, and shall then begin againe to recover his lost light, untill xi. a clocke and 14. minutes; at what time he shall recover his beames: so that the whole time of the Eclipse from the beginning unto the end, is ii. howres and 40. minuts. The poyntes Eclipsed are vii. and Scruples liii. almost halfe his body. Touching the effectes whereof, according to the opinion of the Learned, I doe purpose to say somewhat (God willing) in my next Prognostication; but thus much by the way: Two Eclipses in one moneth, and in a signe of a humane figure, is like to signifie some strange accidentes; and so I will say nothing farther, but desire all men by earnest prayer, to pray to him, who can turne all thynges to the best for his Chosen: to whom be glory and prayse, for ever. Amen.
